Expedia Chooses Corporate Focus: They Need to Vacation Too

Leading Companies Select Corporate Focus to Centralize Corporate Records and Manage Entity Information

January 19, 2006, Waltham, MA—Two Step Software, Inc., a leader in corporate governance, ownership, and minute book management software solutions, announces that Expedia, Inc., the leading online travel agency in the world, selected Corporate Focus™, following the spin-off by IAC/InterActiveCorp, in order to optimize resources in their legal department.

Expedia uses Corporate Focus as a tool to centralize its corporate records, track entity details for 80 subsidiaries, and easily access the information. “Corporate Focus has been a great resource for our legal department by giving us a more efficient way to maintain corporate records,” explains Emily Boyer, a corporate and securities paralegal at Expedia.

Gary D. Levine, President and Founder of Two Step Software, comments: “Expedia joins several other public and privately-held companies that have turned to Corporate Focus in 2005 to standardize and better manage their corporate governance information. Based on over a decade of tracking tens of thousands of entities, Corporate Focus has become the application that legal departments know they can trust when they need immediate access to all their corporate records in one place.”

Numerous other companies have recently joined the Two Step family of customers, including: Oshkosh Truck Corporation, named ‘One of America’s 400 Best Big Companies’ by Forbes Magazine; Smart & Final Inc., a New York Stock Exchange traded food and foodservice supplier with more than 5,000 employees; J.M. Huber Corporation, one of the largest family-owned companies in America and a multinational supplier of engineered materials, natural resources and technology-based services; Ygnition Networks, Inc., a leading provider of communication services to 30,000 subscribers; i4 Commerce, a company that boasts nearly one million consumers that rely on the safety and convenience of its payment solutions; Forum Systems, Inc., the leader in web services and SOA security for Fortune 1000 companies; Emergent BioSolutions, a leading presence in the biodefense industry with over 400 employees; and Hasler, Inc., one of the fastest growing mail processing equipment companies in the world.
